RED CROSS FUND STILL LOW

Total Lacks About $100 Of Quota; Those Overlooked Asked To Give

"Campbell is within about $100 of its $3000 quota for the Red Cross Drive," Guy E. Farley, committee member, revealed this afternoon. "If any generous Campbell citizen has overlooked making a donation this year, we urge him to come in now and make it at Campbell drive headquarters," said Farley.

Contributions may be made in the G. E. Farley real estate office, corner Campbell and Central Avenues, which is being used as headquarters for the Red Cross Drive.

Chairman Joaquin J. Payne was out of town today and could not be reached for a summation of drive developments to date. Farley, however, indicated the committee is doing everything possible to put the drive over the top by the end of March.

District solicitors have completed their house-to-house canvass in all but one or two instances, yet the drive is still short of the goal.

During the month-long campaign for funds, the solicitor and committee members have made an all-out effort to give everyone in the community an opportunity to contribute to the Red Cross. In a few instances, however, some householders have been away when the solicitors called, and it is these residents who are urged to contribute now and put the drive over. If anyone has been overlooked, the committee will welcome a call from him now.

Cambrian 4-H Club Meets At Center

The Cambrian 4-H Club held its March meeting at the Cambrian Youth Center on March 10. During the meeting which was conducted by Mario Serchio, members heard plans for their spring recreational activity. This event will be in the form of a skating party and will be held April 8.

Ernie Campo, club leader, instructed all agricultural project members to bring record books to all meetings. Larry Lucas, assistant club leader, reported on the reecnt project tour. He encouraged members to keep up the fine work that was noticed during the tour and advised a few to attempt to improve their present projects. The leaders of the club are Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Campo, Mrs. Anamae Barnes, Larry Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. E. Farley, Mrs. Sam E. Kaeding, Mr. and Mrs. A. Olivera, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Vroom, and Mario Serchio

Life In Campbell Movie Unreeling Next Weekend

"Life In Campbell," the movie that was filmed here in Campbell last week, showing your friends and neighbors and your merchants, will be shown at the Campbell Theater as part of the regular screen bill on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 30 and 31 and April 1.

Don't miss this screen showing. Second feature on the bill will be "Tarzan Triumphs" with Johnny Weissmuller and John Sheffield.

It's practically becoming a tradition, that is, if anything so new as TV is elegible for the "traditional" rating. Time honored or not, the children's programs over the television stations are drawing a regular Thursday evening audience to Accardi's where the youngsters, most of them with their parents, gather to view the television shows for the younger set. It's a charming idea, a neighborly event in this friendly community.

HENLEY AND BENSON TO HEAD SEAL DRIVE FOR CAMPBELL; NEED CITED

The appointment of William C. Henley and Lowell Benson as co-chairmen of the Easter Seal Drive in Campbell was made today by Robert Seeley, president of Santa Clara County Society for Crippled Children. The drive, which is nation-wide, ends Easter Sunday, April 9.

"The importance of reaching our objective in this campaign," said Alfred L. (Bud) Lord was elected temporary chairman with Joe Ray as Adjutant to receive applications and assist locally in formation of the new post.

Another meeting will be held tonight at the residence of Chas. A. Chubb at 681 Emory Avenue, Campbell.

Membership in the Veterans of Foreign Wars is open to Veterans of all wars who have had overseas service and any veteran who is not contacted by the membership committee in the next few weeks is urged to contact them by calling Campbell 3002 or Campbell 2778; also CYpress 5-2950 and Campbell 4374 for information.

Those signing up now will become charter members in this new post.

A representative of the new post, in an interview with the Press, said: "Veterans living in the Campbell area, with overseas service should join America's oldest and largest overseas veteran fraternity to assist in maintaining the veteran benefits gained for them in the past. Many forces are at work to deprive them of these hard-won benefits. The latest of these, are parts of the Hoover report, which affect veterans and the Veterans Administration.

"An overseas veteran is a man respected and admired. Put that prestige to work, for yourself and for your country, by joining the Veterans of Foreign Wars today."

W. V. Hospital Site Negotiations Hinge On Use Permit

Negotiations are currently underway for purchase of acreage in the Vasona Junction district by the board of directors of the West Valley Hospital District. The property is to be the site of the future West Valley Hospital.

Chairman H. M. Shadle of Campbell declined to reveal choice of property made by the board Wednesday night, stating that final choice will be made at the board's next meeting, April 4. Shadle said he, Board Secretary Harry Whiteman and Board Attorney George Stepovich will carry on negotiations in the meantime with property owners.

It will be necessary for the board to obtain a use permit for operation of a hospital in the Vasona Junction area, Shadle explained, therefore selection of the property must hinge on receipt of the County Planning Commission's approval. No permit, no sale.

Three pieces of property are under consideration, one approximately five acres; another about eight acres, and the third, just under ten acres.

Footlighters Preparing 'January Thaw' For Cambrian Home And School Club's Benefit To Aid School Orchestra

Under the able direction of Dean Chamberlin, the Footlighters are now in their second week of rehearsal for the play, "JANUARY THAW," which they are preparing for April 21 and 22 performances at the Campbell High School auditorium.

This play, written by William Roos, was a Broadway hit of 1946. The plot — the Gage family, in seeking for country "atmosphere," buys an old homestead in Connecticut. There is a clause in the deed which entitles the Rockwoods to return and live in the house, should they so choose. The conflict between the real and the pseudo farmer families provides some very good comedy. Complicate this picture with a storm, which makes the families unable to get out of the house—knocks out all of the Gages' modern conveniences—and you have the setting for a lot of laughs.

The play is being sponsored by the Cambrian Home and School Club to benefit the school orchestra. Tickets will be 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for children, through grammar school age.

CAST

The city couple Marge and Herbert Gage are being played by Marion Nelson and Greg Parker. The country couple, Jonathan and Mathilda Rockwood by Bert Legg and Alma Fanning. The supporting cast is also well-known to Campbell audiences — the Gage daughters Luella Devich, Kathy Kollmer and Carolyn Coons. The maid Frieda — Virginia Howard. The Rockwood son—George Nelson, son of Marion Nelson. Mr. Loomis, the attorney, is played by Phil Cosentino, and Uncle Walter is none other than than LBen Howard. The dashing young boy friend, George Husted, is played by Al Mauseth.

Kiwanis Has Inter Club Meeting With Mountain View

A somewhat belated Irish Day program was held at the Campbell Kiwanis Club Tuesday with Mr. Jack O'Keefe from San Jose as chairman.

Twelve members of the San Jose Club were present and 29 members of the Mountain View Club, making it a three-way inter-club meeting.

Mr. Joseph Kelly, Santa Clara, was the guest speaker for the occasion and presented a talk on the "Contribution of Ireland to the U.S." It was a serious talk, and he extolled the virtues and merits of the many Irishmen who came to this country and their considerable influence on the country in the way of culture and development.

A musical trio furnished instrumental numbers for the meeting, playing many Irish tunes. The trio consisted of Miss Gretchen Schmitt, harpist; Miss Jean Johnson, 'cello, and Miss Joyce d'Avis, violinist.

In addition to the above Mr. Lloyd Nelson rendered tenor solos of Irish melodies and was accompanied by Mr. Allen Ferguson on the piano.

Other guests were D. L. Beltz, the new manager of Campbell Western Auto Supply, soon to be opened; Bert Burda, of the Campbell Hatchery; Tom Koskey, of Stanford University, and William Capener of Los Gatos.

Next week the club will play host to the co-champion basketball team of the Campbell High School and the speaker will be "Nibs" Price of the University of California. Mr. L. E. "Bill" Means will be chairman of the occasion and the meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. next Tuesday.

Masons To Attend Grand Master's Official Visit

Master Masons of the 14 Masonic lodges in the county will hear Judge Ellsworth Meyer, the grand master of Masons in California, in an address tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Scottish Rite Temple, San Jose.

Ellsworth Mayer

Host lodge at the tiled meeting will be Morgan Hill 463. A 6:30 p.m. dinner will be served by masters and wardens of the lodges in the Masonic Temple, 272 S. First Street.

Meyer, a native of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, was appointed a Superior Court Judge for Los Angeles County in October of last year. He received his A.B. degree from Pomona College, attended the University of California, and received his LL.B. degree from the University of Southern California.

Cambrian Men's Club Will Hear Fiesta Report

Cambrian Men's Club will hold their regular monthly meeting this Tuesday, March 28, at 8 p.m. in the Youth Center.

Reports of all committees working on the May 7 Fiesta will be given. An excellent program for the entire afternoon and evening has been planned—children's parade, crowning of king and queen, apron parade, amateur show, boxing and wrestling exhibitions, folk dancing groups, free dancing in the evening, will afford entertainment all through the day for those attending this annual event on the Cambrian School grounds. Save the date—May 7, from 2 p.m. until midnight.

State Income Tax Representative At American Trust Co.

George R. Reilly, Member of the Franchise Tax Board, announces that a State Income Tax Examiner will be headquartered in the American Trust Company, Campbell, Monday, March 27, between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m., for the purpose of offering free assistance to the taxpayers of the community who desire help in the preparation of their State Income Tax returns.

New residents of California, particularly, are advised to contact the Examiner for the purpose of obtaining help and advice relative to the California State Income Tax Act.

All married persons whose combined income is $3500 or more and all single persons and persons claiming head of family whose income is $2000 or more are required to file a State Income Tax Return.

Accountants and attorneys requiring a large supply of forms are requested to contact the permanent branch office serving this community at 273 North First Street, San Jose.

Church Guild To Buy Silver

The Ladies Guild, Church of the Good Shepherd, met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Gladys Jessup on Ridgeley Drive. Mrs. Ruth Nelson was the co-hostess. During the meeting the guild voted to purchase silverware for the church.

Next meeting of the guild will be held Tuesday night, March 28, at the home of Mrs. Selma Hokanson, 522 S. Sixth Street. Mrs. D. N. Anderson will be co-hostess.

Blood Donors Aid H. Smith

Blood Bank To Open Here Wednesday For Collection From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m:

Friends, neighbors, fellow Legionnaires and his son's fraternity brothers responded to the call for blood to aid Howard Smith, Campbell Postoffice employe, who has been ill at a San Jose Hospital.

Although the first call was for Type O, RH Negative blood, Mrs. Smith said the type needed was O, RH Positive, and the volunteers supplied enough to meet Smith's needs. In fact his improvement has been very encouraging, she states. Last transfusion of whole blood was received by him over the weekend. Since then, no transfusions have been necessary to date.

"We certainly appreciate the response of all those who have called to inquire and to donate blood," said his wife. "The knowledge that so many are interested and are pulling for him is helping him to recover."

Since the whole blood can be kept only a short while, and since he has not been receiving transfusions this week, Mrs. Smith suggested that further donations will not be necessary at this time.

Many others, she said, are planning to make gifts of their blood in Mr. Smith's name during the Red Cross mobile unit's collection visit here next Wednesday. "We do appreciate this wonderful response and hope everyone will plan to donate blood during the visit." She indicated that the family's experience in seeking blood for Mr. Smith has made more evident than ever the need for donating blood during the regular blood bank visits.

The mobile unit will be in Campbell next Wednesday, at the Methodist Church parish house, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. A few minutes of your time can save a life. Make it a point to be a life saver next Wednesday.

Rotarians Hear Of Mystery House; Plan Evening Meet

Campbell Rotarians resumed their regular noon meetings Monday, March 20, when they heard Mr. Dan Bradley give an interesting talk on the Winchester Mystery House. President Forrest Reese presided over the meeting during which he thanked the hard-working members of the committee which planned and organized the recent highly-successful second anniversary dinner. The members of the committee were: Homer Hyde, chairman; Bill Maderis, Norman Stoner, Mario Saia, Les Harmon and Forrest Reese.

Reese also announced that there will be no luncheon meeting Monday, March 27. In place of the noon meeting there will be an evening gathering at 8:00 p.m. in the IOOF building. This will be an important all-member affair, as the members will be presented with a slate of candidates from which to choose officers for the coming year.

Mr. Bradley then took over and explained that he was somewhat of an authority on the Winchester mansion, having been engaged for the last few years in guiding visitors through the house on weekends. He stated that Sarah Winchester was "somewhat" eccentric. She was the heiress to several million dollars received from patents and royalties from the Winchester rifle, the product of her husband's efforts.

Somewhere along the line, Mrs. Winchester became possessed of the idea that she would enjoy eternal life as long as carpenters were still busy working on her rambling home. The house boasts the distinction of being the largest single residence ever constructed. All the floors are on a different level; it has 47 fireplaces (two of which have no chimney) 160 rooms; clear glass bathroom panes and any number of other eccentricities.

The house was damaged during the 1906 earthquake. This frightened Mrs. Winchester so that she is reported to have built herself a private lake and a houseboat in the vicinity of Los Gatos, figuring that an earthquake wouldn't hurt her afloat.

As suual, there were a large number of out-of-town Rotarians present.

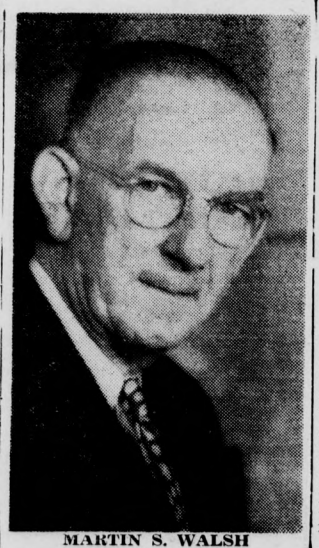
Six Contributors Boost Patrol Fund Up To $515.75

Six more contributions this week boosted the Volunteer Legion Patrol fund to $515.75, the committee announced yesterday. Latest to contribute to the patrol fund were: B. A. Miller, Alice R. Fair, Mrs. Betty Cudek, Lillie Carney, San Tomas Improvement Club and San Tomas Men's Club.

In expressing appreciation for the returns to date, Volunteer Patrol Captain Jack Chappel stressed that the patrol must receive sufficient support from the community if it is to carry on its work. Patrol members can no longer provide funds out of their own pockets for patrol car maintenance, sidearms, bonds, gas, oil and other car needs. Those wishing to contribute to the patrol may send donations to Legion Patrol, P. O. Box 746, Campbell.

Martin Walsh, JP Candidate, Speaks At Saratoga Lions Club Gathering

California owed her admission to statehood in 1850 partly to a misconception of the agricultural possibilities of the state, according to Martin S. Walsh, well known Campbell attorney and candidate for Justice of the Peace in Campbell Township. He was guest speaker of the Saratoga Lions club Tuesday noon, March 21, at Walker's restaurant in Saratoga.



MARTIN S. WALSH

"When California was admitted," said Judge Walsh in the course of his talk, "there were 15 slave states and 15 free states in the Union, and there was great rivalry. It was partly due to Daniel Webster's contention that slavery was useful only in the cotton states, and that since California could not raise cotton it never would have slaves anyhow, that carried the day in Congress. He little understood the possibilities of cotton in this area.

"California, the 31st state, was admitted by the 31st Congress, and was the only state admitted with an adopted constitution, and without the previous condition of being a territory or a colony.

"Several European countries had an eye on Califoronia. In 1542, Cabrillo, a Portuguese navigator under the then great naval power of Spain, visited our shore. In 1579 Sir Francis Drake came, and claimed the country for Queen Elizabeth. In 1769 Gaspar de Portola discovered the entrance to San Francisco Bay. In 1802 the Russians established a post at Fort Ross, and later General Sutter bought them out. Jefferson, the great expansionist, who helped the Lewis and Clarke expedition, knew that war with Mexico was inevitable, and General Fremont made three trips here. In 1846 Commodore Sloat raised the American flag at Monterey, thereby forestalling the British. The admission of California was due partly to a desire to prevent the establishment of any colony on this continent, and the influx of Americans after gold was discovered in the establishment of American rule."

The speaker was introduced by Wendell Hammon, club secretary, who was chairman of the day. President Virgil Campbell was in general charge of the meeting.

FBI Agent Slated To Address Local Young Adult Group

Louis B. Wine, resident agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, will address the young adult group of the Campbell Methodist Church at its meeting Sunday night in the parish house.

The meeting will begin at 6 p.m. Refreshments will be served. The regular baby sitter service will be provided.

J. E. Caudill Given Probation

Police Judge Percy O'Connor sentenced James E. Caudill, 26, of 955 Juanita Way, Campbell, to one year on probation on a charge of molesting a nine-year-old girl. Caudill pleaded guilty to the charge Monday. He was arrested March 7 by Captain Donald De Mers and Juvenile Officer Pete Guerin.

WHIST PARTY TO BE HELD

A whist party will be held in the Campbell High School gym tomorrow evening. The party will be under the auspices of the combined clubs of St. Lucy's Church with Fred Smith acting as chairman of the occasion.

Arrangements have been made by the committee in charge for a large crowd.

Mr. Seeley, "cannot be over-emphasized. In carrying out its aim to help every handicapped child, the society handles 116 different categories of service. It systematically seeks out for care crippled children; it make possible physical restoration of every case that can be helped; it maintains and carries to the children a broad educational program and, in this connection, provides transportation for class and group gatherings; it provides recreation in day camps and resident summer camps, and pre-vocational training, guidance and aids in job placement." Santa Clara county residents are being solicited through the medium of Easter Seals which have been mailed to every home in the county. A small contribution from each family will more than meet the needs, according to Mr. Seeley.

LUMBER YARD ROBBED

WILLIAM C. BOHNETT AND BRIDE AT HOME IN SANTA BARBARA AFTER EPISCOPAL WEDDING

William C. Bohnett of Santa Barbara, grandson of Mrs. J. T. Morgan of Sunnyside Avenue, claimed Miss Joyce Gretchen Grettenberger as his bride in wedding rites held in the southern city's Trinity Episcopal Church on February 25. After a honeymoon at Mission Inn, Riverside, and Palm Springs, the young couple are residing at 2175 Coyote Road, Santa Barbara.

The Rev. Richard Flagg Ayres performed the double ring ceremony for the former Campbell man and his bride. Mr. William H. Grettenberger gave his daughter in marriage. She wore white satin styled with sweetheart neckline and pointed sleeves. Her veil a beautiful lace mantilla, and she wore a gold cross on a delicate gold chain. A cascade bouquet of white camellias and white hyacinths was carried by the bride.

HONOR ATTENDANT

Mrs. R. Milton Jones Jr. of Fresno was the matron of honor. She was gowned in blue taffeta and organdie made with hoop skirt. She wore blue mitts and carried strelitzia regina with long streamers of orange-gold ribbon matching her ribbon headband.

Best man's duties were filled by Robert M. Horton of Los Gatos. Ushers were William James Grettenberger, brother of the bride, and Arthur V. Thompson.

White stock, gladioli and blue iris was used on the altar. Baskets of the flowers decorated the church. Miss Ruth Kelsey played the organ for the ceremony.

Mrs. William H. Grettenberger selected a grey dress and hat with black accessories and a corsage of pink anthereums for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Floyd O. Bohnett, mother of the bridegroom, wore a costume of navy blue with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow orchids.

RECEPTION

Immediately after the ceremony, the reception was held at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Charlesworth, where 250 relatives and friends were greeted by the young couple. Decorations were of white stock, gladioli and blue iris, all arranged by the bride. The three-tiered wedding cake was mounted in blue iris.

Those assisting at the reception were Mesdames Rodney Jones, Lottie Kasmar, Caldwell Tremaine, Ann Brownell, E. Ford Thompson and Fred Sheldon.

When the couple left on their honeymoon, Mrs. Bohnett was wearing a blue dress with white accessories.

Mr. Bohnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd O. Bohnett of Santa Barbara, lived in Campbell with his family for many years and attended local schools. He studied at both Campbell High School and Santa Barbara High High School, and later served for two and one-half years in the Army Signal Corps. He attended Stanford University, North Carolina State College and the University of California, Santa Barbara College, where majored in industrial arts. He is now associated in the cabinet-making business with his father and brothers in Santa Barbara.

Mrs. Bohnett, who also attended Santa Barbara High School, will continue her florist business which she operated prior to her marriage.

SERVICE CLUB'S MUSICAL TEA PLANS STATED

Mrs. William N. Lloyd was hostess at her Hamilton Avenue home to the monthly meeting of the Campbell Women's Service Club. President Mrs. R. J. Flagg presided at the business meeting during which the group discused the plans for its annual musical tea to be held April 5.

Mrs. Earl Buck, general chairman of the tea committee, reported on progress of the arrangements, and various committee reports were heard. The hostess, Mrs. Lloyd, assisted by Mesdames Frank Richardson, Dan Gould and W. L. Powell, served refreshments to the group.

Members toured the Lloyd garden which was particularly beautiful that day.

Next meeting will be on Wednesday, March 29, at the home of Mrs. Norman Pratt on Mozart Road. Tickets for the tea may be obtained from Mrs. Clarence Helmcold, telephone Campbell 2872; Mrs. Everett Nelson, Campbell 3634, or at the What Not Shop on Campbell Avenue.

New Members Of Methodist Church Will Gather

New members being received into the Methodist Church on Palm Sunday will meet at the parsonage, 734 E. Campbell Avenue, on Friday evening, March 31. The pastor will conduct a discussion of the meaning of church membership and will answer questions asked by the group. A social hour will follow, with refreshments to be served by Mrs. L. J. Osborne.

Netops Council Members Attend Other Sessions

Netops Council Degree of Pocahontas will convene Friday evening, March 24, in the IOOF Hall. Pocahontas Alma Fanning will be at her station at eight p.m. In charge of refreshments will be Gail Plymale.

Members of Netops Council trailed to An-de-ta-ha Council in San Jose for official visit of Mary D. Hamilton, Great Pocahontas; also present was candidate for adoption, Marguerita Ray, affiliated with Netops Council in Campbell.

Several members will trail with first Great Runner, Sharon Parker, to Lola Council at Monterey, Friday, March 24, for official visit in that city.

Auxiliary Greets New Members At Recent Session

Recommended revisions in bylaws were adopted by Campbell American Legion Auxiliary at their meeting Wednesday, and two new members were initiated into the unit.

Mrs. Lorraine Barrett's resignation as historian was announced, and the vacancy was filled by the appointment of Alene Strickland.

A $25 donation to the current Red Cross fund drive was approved by the auxiliary membership. During a report on the monthly party held March 21 for patients at the Palo Alto Veterans Administration Hospital, Mrs. Grace Lee presented a jacket which she had made for use by one of the patients.

Kiwanis chairman for April will be Jessie Olson. Chairman for May will be Evelyn Knowles.

Next unit meeting will be April 12 at the Country Woman's Clubrooms.

Lynda Johns Has Pre-Easter And Birthday Fete

Enjoying a belated birthday and pre-Easter party March 23 was four-year-old Lynda Johns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Johns.

Games furnished entertainment for the youngsters attending with a merry-go-round birthday cake as highlight of the refreshments. Easter decorations and colors predominated.

Those attending were Douglas, Cynthia and Steve Lyons; Michael Schmidt, Merrie Kay, Sherianne Barker, Billy Gerevas, George and Janet Egling, Mark and Linda Groaz, Patty Miller, Bobby Dubbich, Janice and Nanette Jones, Sharon Murty, Jackie Merrill, Carol and Bobby Boardon, Carolle Lea, Jimmie Johns. Mothers attending were Mesdames Thayer Lyons, Wesley Groaz, George Miller, Vern Murty, George Egling, A. C. Boardon.

Reservations Due For Country Club USC Pilgrimage

Reservations for the annual pilgrimage of the members of the Country Woman's Club of Campbell should be placed as soon as possible, Mrs. Ira Grim has announced. Place reservations by phoning her at 2453, or by phoning any member of her committee.

The pilgrimage will be held April 3, and club members are requested to gather at 12 o'clock at the Campbell library building. The group will drive to the Hotel Lyndon for lunch, then go to the University of Santa Clara for a guided tour of the famed gardens and mission buildings.

Successful Parenthood

BY

MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

THE BUILDING OF WORLD friendship among children is one of the constructive post-war efforts which is making real headway. Writing to pen pals in other countries is a cherished part of many a school child's life. And one can imagine what it means to small war victims to receive letters, pictures and gifts from a friendly correspondent.

One outgrowth of this plan to promote understanding and regard among the children of the world is the world Christmas festival which enables our children to share their Christmas or Chanukah (pronounced Han'-i-kah) gifts with children overseas. This year will mark the fifth anniversary of the world Christmas and Chanukah festival. In the past four years nearly one and a half million presents have been sent from boys and girls in this country to children overseas. This, of course, has meant that parents and teachers have cooperated to organize "share your Christmas" movements.

That is why we are reminding you that it is time to begin gathering this year's gifts so they can be shipped by October 1st or 15th. This early date is necessary in order that the gifts may arrive overseas before December 15th, the day of the world Christmas festivals which will be held in every land. You do not need to go through the complicated business of shipping packages overseas—this is done for you by the sponsoring organization, Church World Service, Inc., 214 East 21st Street, New York 10, N. Y.

There are, of course, rules to follow so we suggest that you write at once to the above address for a leaflet describing them. Or you can no doubt secure copies from your church or school.

The point I wished to emphasize is that parents should help their children enjoy a sense of sharing and friendship. Guide their purchases so that the gifts will be worthwhile—a flimsy match holder may delight you because your child chose it with love. But it might be very disappointing to an expectant child in Europe or Asia who was receiving no other gifts.

To prevent the wrong gifts going to a child, each is to be plainly marked on a securely fastened tag, whether for a boy or a girl, and of what age. Also, your child's name and address should be plainly typed or printed on the reverse of the tag. For the friendship plan works both ways—half of it is the pleasure the receiving child takes in writing a thank you letter to his American friend.

Here are a few don'ts: no military toys or glass can be sent as gifts. No comic books. Food is not to be packed with Christmas gifts — also, used clothing, while acceptable for general distribution, is not to be sent as a gift parcel.

Here is a list of gift suggestions for children up to 12 years of age: Stuffed and wooden animals, dolls, toys, small Indian souvenirs, books, crayons, water-colors, plastic clay, scarves, caps, slippers, gloves, mittens, socks, sweaters, hard candy, gum.

How about this coming week end as a time for gathering gifts and helping the children wrap them in gayest fashion. Then they can be packed in one box and mailed to: World Friendship Among Children Sponsored by Church World Service, Inc., 214 East 21st Street, New York 10, N. Y.

George R. Reilly, left, chairman of the State Board of Equalization, is shown as he filed his candidacy for re-election as First District member of California's major tax collecting agency. Reilly, who has held the office since 1938, filed on both the Democratic and Republican tickets for the June 6th primary election. With him in the San Francisco registrar's office are his wife, Kathryn, and Louis R. Lurie, San Francisco builder and philanthropist who is chairman of Reilly's campaign committee.

Money can't buy a laugh like this... but it helps!

The important thing is—the outside world remembers. Your way of saying this is through the Red Cross worker who every day visits military as well as veterans' hospitals throughout the country.

The Red Cross provides the magic that makes the best of medical care even more effective—a friendly face, a pleasant word, a new book to read.

These are little things, yes, but mighty big things, too—especially when you've been in a hospital for five years, as many have. Money alone can't buy the cheering effect of a Red Cross worker's visit. But money does help to make this visit possible.

During the next 365 days, your Red Cross contribution says, "Thanks for the job you did—I haven't forgotten."

You, too, can help through Your RED CROSS

R. V. Garrod Hears Annual Report Of Farmers' Group

New highs in every phase of the operations of Farmers Insurance Group were outlined before R. V. Garrod of Saratoga, and other members of the board of governors of the Farmers Insurance Exchange at the organization's annual board of governor's meeting in Los Angeles, March 20.

Mr. Garrod, president of the California Farmers, Inc., and a prominent figure in many agricultural activities, has been a member of the board of governors of the Farmers Insurance Exchange for 21 years.

"Farmers policy holders increased from 900,000 to over 1,000,000 in 1949. More than $23,000,000 were paid out in claims, by more than 11,000 employees and licensed agents in 22 states.

These statements were made by T. E. Leavey, president of the Farmers Insurance Group, in presenting the annual report for the Farmers Insurance Exchange, the Truck Insurance Exchange, and the Fire Insurance Exchange.

Hoover Report Group Meets

Following a second organizing meeting in the San Jose Civic Auditorium, the Santa Clara County Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report this week swung into action to sign up 2,000 or more members and to raise a small fund for operating expenses.

In keeping with the grass roots character of the movement, it was voted to limit donations to a maximum of $50 a person.

"It is the great American middle class which bears the heaviest burden of taxation and therefore stands to benefit the most from the recommendations of the Hoover Report," said Robert Beresford, San Jose attorney and committee chairman.

"We want our committee to represent all possible groups in the county, since our purpose of more efficiency and economy in our federal government certainly has the support of a large portion of our population."

A modest budget, covering printing, postage and similar essential expense for the next six months has been approved and membership cards are being distributed to interested groups and individuals.

Column To Appear In 39 Newspapers

The popular record review column "Round & Round," starting the week of March 26, will appear in Magazine California, a weekly magazine supplement distributed with 34 of California's finest weekly newspapers.

This record column, written by Vivian Baldwin, has been running for the past several months in the Campbell Press, the Saratoga Observer, the Cupertino Courier, the Los Gatos Daily Times and the Los Gatos Mail-News.

The announcement of Mrs. Baldwin's appointment as Record Columnist for Magazine California was made by Joe Cunningham of Los Gatos, representative for the publishers of Magazine California.

Speakers are provided by the San Jose Junior Chamber of Commerce. Nationally, the Junior Chamber has made the enactment of the Hoover report recommendations into law a main project of the year. Bruce F. Allen, speakers bureau chairman, has reported the mailing of letters to 265 county organizations to schedule talks. Speakers may be obtained by phoning Allen at CYpress 4-4525.

Orchid Culture Proves Fascinating Topic for Business-Professional Club

Orchids and how to grow them was the fascinating subject discussed by Pauline McMasters, orchid authority, at the Business and Professional Women's Club dinner meeting held Wednesday evening in the Conogregational church.

Mrs. McMasters was introduced by Dorothy Ellis and proceeded to keep the company enthralled with her unlimited source of information on the growth and history of the orchid. She brought many examples of the plant with her, from seedling to the lovely flowering beauty itself. The most amazing fact given was the length of time it took to bring an orchid into maturity. Seven years is the average length of time from seedling to flower. The orchid then continues to bloom almost indefinitely once a year with up to five blossoms.

The nominating committee reported, and voting will be next meeting by ballot. The following will be on the agenda: vice-president, Dorothy Ellis; recording secretary, Alice Schmidt; corresponding secretary, Doris Jansen; parliamentarian, Cecile Shad; treasurer, Leah Johnson; auditor, Mary Gray; board of directors, Gwen Steindorf, Marian Hill, Winifred Tonkin.

A gavel was voted to be presented to the newly formed Las Tres Bes Club by the sponsoring Campbell group.

Two new members were voted on and accepted. They were Mrs. Eva Ballot of the Cambrian Cleaners, and Blanche Gilpatrick.

SHOWER

A surprise stork shower was held for Junice Ross and Lucille Barnes by the members. Many lovely gifts were received.

Delegates for the Bay District Conference to be held in San Jose are Gwen Steindorf, Irene Hodges, Mary Gray and Azalea Shaw, president alternate, Cecile Shad; delegate alternates, Marilyn Kay, Frances Cousins and Mildred Accardi.

HOME DECOR TALK MARKS CLUB MEETING

Mrs. Winifred Jecker of the Santa Clara County Home Extension Service, gave an interesting talk on things to consider in home decoration, when she spoke before the March 20 gathering of the Country Woman's Club of Campbell.

The speaker discussed important factors to be considered in developing one's individual decorative style, how to analyze the family needs, and the importance of long-range planning.

In addition to Mrs. Jecker's talk, the club members heard a musical program which was presented by Lorraine Wood, pianist, and Dwight Klassen, tromboonist, accompanied by Joyce Klassen. Miss Wood played "Prelude in G Minor" and "Theme" from the "Piano Concerto in A Minor." Mr. Klassen offered a trombone solo.

DELEGATES

Club members will be represented at the county federation meeting today by their president, Mrs. J. M. Dahl, and by Mesdames Laurance J. Hill, Carl B. Field and LBen Howard. Mrs. J. B. Collins and Mrs. Ira H. Grim are serving as alternates.

Huge sprays of white flowering peach decorated the library clubrooms for the club meeting. Mrs. C. P. Klassen served as program chairman, assisted by Mesdames Oliver Jensen, Emil Kollmer, I. R. Abbott, R. G. Archibald and George Leigh.

Footlighters Hear 'January Thaw' Progress Report

Mrs. Les Ackerman conducted the regular monthly meeting of the Footlighters in the absence of the president, Mrs. Irene Hodges, who was ill. Dean Chamberlin, director of the group's forthcoming play which is being sponsored by the Cambrian Home and School Club, gave a report on progress of the play, "January Thaw."

The cast has been selected and the play has started production. Mrs. Al Mauseth will assist Mrs. Ethan Lanphear in prompting duties.

A report on the play, "The City Slicker and Our Nell," which was presented on Old Settlers' Day, was given by the chairman.

Guests Laxie and Jack Morlett and Noreen and Bill Fahler were introduced.

A St. Patrick's Day motif was carried out in the decor and refreshments. Jean and Preston Perdue were in charge.

Mrs. Earl Buck To Sing During Church Service

Mrs. Earl Buck will sing Gounod's "There Is a Green Hill Far Away," at the 11 o'clock worship service of the Methodist Church.

In keeping with Passion Sunday, the pastor, the Rev. L. J. Osborne, will preach on the subject, "Faith that Redeems." The church choir will sing MacFarlane's anthem, "Open Our Eyes."

Monterey And Santa Cruz Observers Attend Mental Health Seminar

Fifteen social workers from this area were joined by visiting workers from the Community Chest and the Family Service Agency of Monterey and from the Santa Cruz County Welfare Department in a review and planning session of the monthly "Seminar for Social Workers," sponsored by the Mental Health Service. The group met Thursday, March 16, at the headquarters of the service in the Porter building, San Jose.

In evaluating the five preceding seminar discussions on "The Individual Interview," Dr. Fred Bradshaw, service psychiatrist, led the the group. He stressed that for a social worker to do a good job, it is important that he recognize the function, purpose, and limitations of his agency; to be aware of his own feelings toward his client or patient; and to direct the interview to the area of the client's concern and feeling of the moment.

Representatives of the social work staffs of the Home of Benevolence, Mental Health Service, San Jose Red Cross Chapter, and three Santa Clara County agencies, welfare, juvenile probation, and county hospital, attended. They joined together in planning future seminar sessions. In April, the staff of the Home of Benevolence will arrange the program. In May, the seminar will explore the dynamics of group behavior, shifting from its study of inter-personal relationships between the two persons involved in an interview.

The seminars are open to all practicing social workers in Santa Clara County and constitute one of the education projects of the Mental Health Service. Other community service activities include seminars and classes for nurses, teachers, and parents.

Prune Early Or Late - But Prune

The pruning operation is not the place to start cutting orchard cost, advises L. C. Barnard, County Director of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service in Santa Clara County. Growers should prune annually if they want to produce good quality fruit and continue production.

Junior Grand Nat'l. Attracts Eight Campbell Entries

Twenty-six members of the Future Farmers of America from Santa Clara County, including nine from Campbell, today entered livestock in the 1950 Grand National JUNIOR Livestock Exposition and Arena Show which will be held in the San Francisco-San Mateo Cow Palace April 1 to 6, inclusive.

More than 1000 Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club boys and girls are expected to trail 3000 head of beef and dairy cattle, sheep and swine into the huge pavilion for six days of exhibition, judging, demonstrations and auction sales.

This year's arena show promises to be the most spectacular in the history of the Junior Grand National and is being produced with the view in mind of bringing high entertainment to adults as well as youngsters. Matinee and evening performances will be held over the opening weekend and the program will be highlighted by the bone-jarring thrills of Western features.

Porter Sesnon, member of the Board of Directors of No. 1-A District Agricultural Association is this year's Junior Show Chairman.

Campbell entrants are:

Mrs. Ray Martin Re-elected To PTA Presidency

Mrs. Ray Martin was elected to a second term as president of the San Tomas Parent-Teacher Association during the unit's meeting March 21.

New officers elected to serve with Mrs. Martin are: Mrs. Anna Mae Miller, first vice-president; Mrs. Gunnar Peterson, second vice-president; Mrs. George Donovan, secretary; Mrs. Glen McCoy, treasurer; Mr. William Shuey, auditor; Mrs. Florence Lukehart, parliamentarian, and Mrs. J. Douglas Fore, historian.

Installation of officers will be conducted at the PTA meeting on Tuesday, April 18.

A rag drive was discussed by the group which voted to hold the event during the latter part of April. Proceeds of the drive will be used to purchase books for the school library.

DELEGATES

Mr. Shuey, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Peterson and Mrs. Miller were elected to serve as delegates to the PTA district convention to be held in San Jose on April 10.

"Somewhere Over The Rainbow" and "June is Bustin' Out All Over" were sung by the school glee club under the direction of Mrs. Pat Freeman.

Mrs. Esther Fore directed Mrs. Emig's class in several folk dance numbers for the entertainment of the members.

Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

American Trust Common Stock To Go On Sale

James K. Lochead, President of American Trust Company, today announced that the bank's board of directors has authorized the sale of approximately 120,000 additional shares of common stock. This stock will first be offered to common stockholders of record March 16, 1950 at $44.42 per share, on the basis of one new share for each four shares held; transferable subscription warrants exercisable at any time on or before May 15, 1950 are to be mailed to stockholders on April 15, 1950. Mr. Lochead pointed out that upon the mailing of the subscription warrants, the bank's preferred stock will become convertible into common stock on a share for share basis.

It is expected that the offering will be underwritten by a syndicate headed by Blyth & Co., Inc.

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED TO ATTEND GALA ANNUAL EVENT; PROGRAM STARTS 10.30 a.m.; COSTUMES IN ORDER

This Saturday isthe big day in Saratoga. The town's annual Blossom Time Festival and Chip-In Day celebration will take over as the focal point of local activities in observance of Saratoga's 100 years of history.

PROGRAM: At 10:30 a.m. in the town park, Joseph R. Knowland, chairman of the California Centennials Commission, will dedicate the bronze historical plaque which bears a brief history of Saratoga, which is State Historical Landmark 435. All who plan to attend, and everyone is invited to do so, are reminded that this opening event will be in the town park, right in the center at the intersection of Big Basin Way, Los Gatos Road, Saratoga Avenue and Saratoga-Sunnyvale Road; not at Wildwood park.

Local and county dignitaries will participate in the dedication program. Saratoga's State Assemblyman Robert C. Kirkwood will be among the speakers.

PARADE

Immediately after the dedication program, there will be the parade of children and adults. This will begin at the Saratoga Grammar School grounds on Oak Street, the parade will come down Oak Street to Los Gatos Road, down Los Gatos Road to Big Basin Way, then up Big Basin Way to Fourth St. At fourth street the parade will turn left and proceed to Wildwood Park.

After the judging and award of ribbons, there will be a community picnic in the park, from noon to about 2 p.m. Plenty of sandwiches, soft drinks and other edibles will be provided in the food booths and everyone is urged to forego the chore of making his picnic lunch at home; buy it at the park, instead.

During these two hours, there will be other food on sale in addition to that for the lunches. These will include plenty of hot dishes, breads, pies, cakes, cookies, jams, jellies, preserves and all manner of good things which Saratoga's housewives and male chefs are preparing to donate to the community for the occasion. All these foods are to be sold in the various food booths, so plan to stock up.

PAGEANT

At 2:30 p.m., there will be an historical pageant which has been prepared by Dr. John E. Cox and an able band of hard-working committeemen.

At 3:30 p.m., a program of folk dancing is planned, featuring the Sara-Cats. After the folk dancing, there will be general dancing for all.

During the events at Wildwood Park, there will be numerous other booths to attract the hundreds of visitors expected for the day.

These will include the white elephant booth, which Mrs. Freda Dose will supervise; games, amusements, pony ride, and, a most important addition to the program this year, the Historical Exhibit.

HISTORICAL EXHIBIT

This exhibit, which will be at the Harless Moser Real Estate office in Saratoga, has been arranged by Miss Florence R. Cunningham. Those who have given special assistance to Chairman Cunningham include Owen L. Winston, Mrs. Frances McCoy, Miss Mary Hourecan, Miss Aimee Woldenberg, Miss Margaret Dolge, Joseph P. Long, Harless Moser, Clarence Neale and Dr. Robert L. Hogg.

There will be many photographs of early day Saratoga, and historical items pertaining to the town. Early day residents and their descendants are particularly invited to attend, and Miss Cunningham is preparing a roster of those residents and their descendants who came to California before 1853. Incidentally, anyone who is, or who knows of such persons here in the community is requested to contact Miss Cunningham, phone Saratoga 3512, or write her at Route 1, Box 25, Saratoga.

WEAR COSTUME

Everyone, young and old, is asked to come in costume. This is Saratoga's centennial year, and the committee hopes to make the observance this Saturday a truly fitting one for Saratoga's first 100 years. Costumes need not be elaborate or costly. They may be anything from a farmwife's gingham with apron, to the togs of a muleteer, Indians, cowboys, Union or Confederate soldiers, early day school teachers, frontiersmen, Spanish caballeros, senoritas, or a whole raft of others.

SARA-CATS

Following the pageant at 3:30 p.m., the Sara-Cats will give an exhibition of folk dancing on the Wildwood Park stage. The folk dancing will be followed by public dancing, which will conclude the Blossom Time Chip-In Day celebration.

FOOD DONATIONS

Cakes and other foods to be donated may be left at the former pet shop, Los Gatos Road, two doors up from the Harless Moser Real Estate office, any time Saturday up till noon.

WHITE ELEPHANTS

White elephants or rummage may be left at the same shop any day this week. If the door is locked, the real estate office has the key. Those who wish to have rummage picked up at their homes, should phone Chairman Freda Dose, AX 6-4602, before Saturday.

ALL INVITED

Everyone is invited to attend, everyone is asked to contribute toward the success of Saratoga's biggest post-war celebration. Food for the booths, white elephants for the rummage sale are the biggest requirements for the concessions.

Most important of all is that everyone attend and have a good time. Wear a costume if you can, but come and join the fun this Saturday.

Junior Red Cross Fund Of $41.32 Raised At CUHS

Campbell Union High School students contributed $41.32 for the Junior Red Cross in a single collection held Tuesday morning after assembly, Miss Carrie Belling, Junior Red Cross student counsellor at the school, revealed this week. "I do feel that the students should be complimented on their response during the collection," she stated. "They did as well on this as they did on the polio fund drive."

Speakers at the Tuesday morning Assembly were Alistair Anderson, manager of the San Jose Red Crosos chapter, and Miss Barbara Fallon, field assistant, American Red Cross, who is stationed at Moffett Field.

Scientist To Show Central American Tour Films To Foothill Meeting

Well-known scientist Dr. Gustav Fassin of Los Gatos will address the Saratoga Foothill Club next Tuesday afternoon. He will present an illustrated lecture on his recent trip to Mexico and Guatemala. He will show films taken on the trip.

Dr. Fassin has appeared before service clubs in Campbell with his fascinating series of lectures.

Dr. Fassin, whose hobby is color photography, is a native of Roux, Belgium. He studied in leading European universities and did scito to this country in 1930 to become associated with the University of Rochester, New York.

While he was connected with the Bausch and Lomb Optical company, he made instruments which were carried on the history-making stratosphere flight above South Dakota in 1933. The spectographs which he designed were carried 72,395 feet above sea level in the National Geographic Society-U. S. Army Corps gondola at Rapid City, South Dakota.

At the Bausch and Lomb laboratories Dr. Fassin designed mechanical parts of the world's heaviest camera, the 700-pound specially built spectograph which U. S. savants took to Siberia in 1937 to study the total eclipse of the sun.

Navigating Instruments

In 1935 Dr. Fassin became a citizen of the United States. During the war he was consultant on special optical problems for Sperry Gyroscope Company, and was of technical assistance in connection with development of navigating instruments for long range military aircraft.

He organized the Ray Control Company of Pasadena in 1943 for the purpose of manufacturing military and navy official instruments. The Los Gatos resident was vice-president and a director until the end of the war.

Among his scientific achievements was the invention of a microscope centrifuge to assist in obtaining knowledge about germs and also in the study of deep sea life.

Besides color photography, Dr. Fassin's hobbies include domestic architecture, painting in pastels, chess and the making of jewelry.

Hostesses

Mrs. William Chamberlain will be the chairman of hostesses for next week's gathering. Those on her committee are: Mesdames H. L. Baggerly, William G. Alexander, Julius Behrend, Henry Beaudoux, Otis Berthold, Fred M. Carter, Frank Hawkes, F. F. Cain, Wardell W. Jennings, W. L. Hubbard, Howell Lovell, Alton Howard and the Misses Louise Bartlett and Mary Hourcan.

Campbell Man Arraigned On Hit-Run Charge

James A. "Bert" Campbell, 56, of 251 San Jose-Los Gatos Road, was arrested and charged with a felony hit and run driving following an accident Wednesday night in which a three-year-old girl was seriously injured.

The child, Jean Kathleen Allhouse, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Allhouse of 668 Walnut Avenue, San Jose, was struck while she was crossing the middle of the 400 block of Polhemus Street. She is a patient in Santa Clara Hospital where she is reported to be suffering from a fractured skull, broken leg, pelvic injuries and possible internal injuries.

ARRAIGNED

Campbell, a packing house foreman, was arraigned before Police Judge Percy O'Connor Thursday, and subsequently was released on $6000 property bond set by the court. Preliminary examination was set for April 5 at 10 a.m. Campbell will be represented by Attorney James Foley.

Foley stated that Campbell stopped after his car struck the child, and walked back to where she lay unconscious in the street. He looked at the child and thought she was dead, said the attorney. A crowd gathered and tne child's mother arrived on the scene. Everybody thought the girl was dead. Campbell remained on the scene two or three minutes. He then lost his head and drove away.

NOT SPEEDING

Foley's statement above was corroborated by witnesses who added that the child waited to let several cars pass, then stepped out in front of Campbell's car. In addition, police state there is no evidence that Campbell was speeding.

He was arrested at his home shortly after the accident, after police traced him through his auto license number which a witness had noted.

Meeting Date Changed

It is announced that the meeting date of the California Institute of Welfare has been changed to Wednesday, April 5 at 10:30 a.m. The group will meet in the IOOF Building, First and Campbell Avenues.

A good speaker has been provided for the meeting.

High School PTA Raises Funds For Two and a half Scholarships

Campbell High School Parent-Teacher Association tallied up the results of its whist party and cake sale Saturday night and agreed that the event had been both socially and financially successful.

Sales of $71 in tickets and $42.40 for the cakes brought in a total of $113.40. This less expenses of $3.00, showed net receipts of $110.40.

Mr. R. L. Allinger bid the top price of $9 for a cake baked by Mrs. Roy Stoner and each was presented an award. Second high in the cake sales was that baked by Mrs. George Lee, which brought in $7.

Other awards were made to Mrs. W. L. Powell, Mrs. R. L. Allinger and Arthur Hill.

Four Japanese girls in native costumes, all of the girls members of the high school's California Scholarship Federation chapter, served refreshments.

$40 SOUGHT

Mrs. J. W. Knowles, general chairman of the event, said the $110.40, plus other individual donations which are expected to amount to about $150 will provide two $100 scholarships for graduating seniors. A third scholarship can be awarded, she added, if "we can raise an extra $40 to add to the balance of $60 to be left over after allotment of the first two scholarships."

Anyone with an idea or a contribution may reach her at 140 W. Rincon Avenue, phone Campbell 2083.

FRANKIE LANE is out to hold his title as "America's No. 1 Interpreter of Modern Music. His new disc SWAMP GIRL (Mercury 5390) is unusual with its touch of mystery and haunting, fleeting soprano. Frankie gives an impressive powerful performance, but it seems to me that it falls short of his previous numbers.

If you are one of those people who are fond of parlor guessing games you can have some fun with a new biscuit called HILLBILLY FEVER (Coral 64032) sung by Kenny Roberts. I was able to pick out the titles of sixteen recent western hit parade tunes in the clever lyrics and I wouldn't be at all surprised if there were several more.

Balladeer Billy Eckstine goes off the deep end on a strong tune tagged FREE (M-G-M 10643). This stirring number shows Billy's gilded vocal tones to excellent advantage.

Horse racing continues to be one of the more popular sports and Der Bingle has a cute novelty number called THE HORSE TOLD ME (Decca 24875). Bing shows his versatile vocal wares in high light, backed by the Jeff Alexander Chorus and Victor Young's orchestra— and oh yes—the horse!

I'm sure that most any choir director could take three high school girls who could carry a tune and turn out a better version of the hym IN THE GARDEN (Decca 14502) than the Andrews Sisters give on this record. This is certainly a la-de-da ditty without any feeling whatsoever. I like the Sisters in some songs but sacred music is certainly not their forte.

Acting on the strength of his television show and the popularity of his movies, Bill Boyd has entered the children's record field. HOPALONG CASSIDY & THE SINGING BANDIT (Capitol CBX 3058) is an excellent selection for children who are fascinated with tales of the Wild West. There is a "record-reader" with black & white pictures of all the characters and the action plus full text of the story.

CLASSICAL RECORDS

Styles of music may come and go, periods may wax and wane, new composers flash across the horizon and fade, Beethoven remains. The listening world agrees that with Beethoven music becomes a universal language. As listeners, I sometimes think we concentrate too much on the larger Beethoven works, his glorious symphonies and thrilling concertos, and neglect the wonderful treasures waiting for us in his smaller and more intimate compositions. One of the loveliest of these treasures is NOTTURNO IN D, upus 42 (RCA Victor WDN 1336) with William Primrose violist and David Stimer at the piano. Those of you who were fortunate enough to hear Primrose on his concert tour to the West Coast last year are well acquainted with his marvelous musicianship and exquisite interpretations so I need not tell you that this recording is a gem.

More and more people, worn out from the hectic pace of twentieth century living, are turning to the music of Mozart for refreshment and relaxation. The last few years has shown a tremendous increase in the popularity of this music so filled with the joy of living. One of the last compositions Mozart wrote was the beautiful and gay CONCERTO IN A MAJOR for clarinet and orchestra. A foreign recording by Les Discophiles Francais (Vox DL 6660) presents F. Etienne as soloist with the Hewitt Chamber Orchestra. Since I played the clarinet for many years, I can truly appreciate the tremendous difficulty of the solo part. Etienne is an excellent clarinetist but, in my opinion, not as good as Reginld Kell who plays this same concerto on an older Victor recording. The Etienne version has the advantage of the Long-Playing disc which goes a long way toward overcoming the slight differences in the technique.

THE FARMER'S CORNER

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California).

Election-conscious or diligent, California's legislators are striving mightily to prove worthy of that new salary hike voted by the electorate last November.

In session primarily to work out the State's finances for the coming year, the lawmakers already have disposed of a "quickie" special session called to make a technical correction regarding the salaries of El Dorado oCunty officials and in another special session —concurrent with the Budget Sessiono—are hard at work on gambling, pension, lobbying and other matters.

As for the $971,000,000 budget submitted by the Governor to the Legislature, here is the manner in which it is proposed to spend the tax dollar:

Education, 31.5 cents; Highways, streets and motor vehicle registration, 20.5 cents; Social welfare, 17.0 cents; Mental hospitals and correctional facilities, 9.0 cents; Agriculture and natural resources, 6.0 cents; Public health, 2.0 cents.

The other fourteen cents of the tax dollar—generally referred to as "all other"—is allocated as follows: Executive (Governor, Disaster Council, Lieutenant Governor), .03 of a cent; General Administration (Retirement System, Committee on Interstate Cooperation, Personnel Board, Secretary of State), .12; Expositions, Board of Equalization, Franchise Tax Board, State Treasurer), 2.38; Legislative, .37; Judicial, .11; Justice,.22; Military Affairs, .40 Professional and Vocational Standards, .27; Public Utilities, .29; Public Works (excluding, Highways, Reclamation Board, Colorado River Board, Water Resources Boaord and Division of Water Resources) .10;

The remaining payments to local governments account for the following: for public works excluding flood control, 2.19; for other purposes, excluding veterans' service officers, agriculture commiss ioners andfairs, .13 and for shared revenues, 5.27.

It is eye-straining reading, but unless the Legislature votes funds beyond those allocated in the buget, that is how California's tax dollar will be spent during the coming fiscal year. As a matter of general interest, almost two thirds of the above noted expenditures are fixed costs over which the Legislature has no control. Just over a third of the budget is fixed at the discretion of the Legislature and the Governor.

While the matter of wrestling with the state finances probably could be a full time job, California's solons have their hands full with other items too.

Bills opening wide the hotly disputed issue of old age pensions are jamming the hopper. One proposal is to transfer the major portion of County pension costs to the State, thus increasing the amount of the budget. Other bills would repeal or lessen relatives' responsibility, which would add to total outlays also. Then, too, there are forces at work which would lower the pension age limit and some purpose, with slight variations, to re-instate the voter repudiated McLain pension scheme. If the three proposed major modifications should be adopted they would require $55,000,000 of new revenue, for the budget itself will require all but $2,225,000 of all available State funds.

On the subject of gambling, the greatest stir to date has been over anti-slot-machine legislation, with undertone demands for a general tightening up of crime laws. The strengthening-of-laws philosophy is prevalent particularly in relation to sex crimes.

Concerning lobby control, the atmosphere has cleared somewhat since the last special session of the Legislature in December, although there is still some agitation to push through measures which would seriously restrict the people's right of petition.

Finally, the Legislatures is also concerned with matters pertaining to child care centers, public school financing, unemployment and disability insurance, workmen's compensation insurance, and a small host of noncontroversial issues.

As the battle lines form and harden, it appears likely that there will be some modification of the pension laws and a tightening up of crime legislation. In the main, however, the State's lawmakers do not appear to be in too much of a hurry to pass any legislation this election year which would necessitate tax increases if they can help it. That is how it looks in midsession at any rate—there is no telling what may happen by adjournment time.

CHINA SHAKES THE WORLD. 1949.

An enlightening book on the situation in China, particularly so in informing us of those things which have puzzled us most. Why, for instance, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, the undisputed ruler of fifty million people, should be reduced to leading a fugitive's life in the short space of four years; and why it is, also, that the Communists have had so easy a success in China. Mr. Belden is writing on a subject he knows—the political background of China. He was for many years connected with Kuomintang party activities and civil administration. His viewpoint is that of a person who has lived among the people of whom he is writing, and he has given us one of the best accounts to come out of China.

RUNBECK, MARGARET LEE. ANSWER WITHOUT CEASING 1949.

Written for moderns, this is a book on prayer which emphasizes religion as a modern force rather than an ancient tradition. Case histories are cited to prove the power of prayer, and diverse approaches to the fullfillment of faith are discussed—Christian Science, Moral Rearmament, and Alcoholics Anonymous, among others. Warmth and sincerity mark the writing of this book and its message will undoubtedly inspire many who normally avoid religious reading.

ST. JOHN, ROBERT. SHALOM MEAN PEACE. 1949.

This is a record of the author's trip through Palestine immediately after the establshment of Israel as a State. For the reader who is seeking historical background of the Palestine situation, this book will be disappointing, but for those who wish to become more closely acquainted with this new member of the family of nations, there could be no better introduction than these colorful thumbnail sketches of the citizens of Israel. The author has been foreign correspondent in the Balkans, radio commentator and lecturer; with this background he is well-equipped to record his impressions of the Jewish statesmen, the soldiers of the Haganah and the people living in cooperatives with whom he talked.

EHRLICH, MAX. THE BIG EYE. 1949.

Science fiction is having a certain respectability these days that it has not always had. At the moment it is enjoying a real popularity. Mr. Ehrlich's narrative takes place in the years 1960-63, when astronomers working at Palomar discover that a strange planet is on its way to crash into the earth. America and Russia are on the verge of war, but when the announcement is made by eminent scientists in both countries, all preparation for war immediately ceases, and the people of the world become a united brotherhood. The technical details of the story do not interfere with a very readable style. One feels that Mr. Ehrlich would be fun to talk to.

BURMAN, BEN LUCIEN. EVERYWHERE I ROAM. 1949.

Most of Mr. Burman's writings concern the south, and he is best known for his novel, "Steamboat 'Round the Bend." The present novel is concerned with Captain Asa, a product of the Cumberlands in Kentucky. Captain Asa is in search of the good life. He is tired of the march of progress into the hills, the higher standard of living with which has come industry, juke boxes and pool rooms. A gradual ruin of the south as a farmland has taken place, or rather, of the subsistence farmer himself. Asa wants to go back to the good old days. So with his dream he packs up his belongings and his children and sets out to seek a quieter, more private place where life might be good again from his point of view. But the seeds of failure are within Captain Asa himself.

The reader will be grateful for the clarity in writing, for the absence of stress on sex and dirty language. Mr. Burman has had something to say, has let nothing detract from its value, and has therefore said it very well.

BENCHLEY, ROBERT C. CHIPS OFF THE OLD BENCHLEY. 1949.

These "chips" date from the twenties and thirties and include essays which have not appeared in book form before. As in all of Benchley's writings, they are all funny—but some are hilariously so; highlights cited are "Tiptoeing Down Memory Lane"—Benchley's recollections of Whitman and Emerson; "Old Days in New Bottles"—Benchley on Augustin Daly and Ada Hehan; and, "One Hundred Years Ago Today" which has to do with "Bartlett's Quotations." These are a few of the highlights of an extremely entertaining book.

GOUDGE, ELIZABETH. GENTIAN HILL. 1949.

Like "Pilgrim's Inn," the setting for Miss Goudge's new historical novel is in the southwest of England whose beauty and wealth of folklore she knows so well. While war and fear of invasion is concerned not so much with the Napoleonic wars of a century and a half ago as with the peaceful pleasant life of some of the people who live on the Davon farms. In particular, it is about Stella, rescued from a shipwreck by kindly farmers, a French refugee priest who becomes her friend, her teacher, Dr. Crane, and Anthony, an Irish orphan who has deserted the Navy because he could not endure its brutality, but returns when he has has grown to prove himself and his love for Stella

PRIESTLEY, JOHN B. DELIGHT. 1949.

A selected group of more than a hundred little essays by an author happily suited to the role. They are not exactly essays either, but conversation pieces on a great many subjects. He goes from simple things as, Smoking in a Hot Bath, Giving Advice, and Having One's Fortune Told to the more serious discussions of Discovering Vermeer and The Ironic Principle. The tone is personal throughout. Mr. Priestly represents himself as a kind of "grumbler," but a rather agreeable one who likes to sit around in front of fires smoking his pipe and pondering. The book is the sort one might like to have on the bedside table. The pieces are all very brief, no more than a few hundred words each, and are written without any particular connection or continuity. Nice to pick up at odd moments. One is left in a mood of felicity.

SPENCE, HARTZELL. HAPPILY EVER AFTER. 1949.

This is an autobiographical record of a newly-wed couple, who, anxious to put their roots down somewhere, buy a run-down plantation in Virginia. The 700 acres of land is too large and their attempt to farm all of it is too ambitious. The take many wrong steps, make inaccurate decisions, experience misgivings and bad luck; but all these things are merely the trials and tribulations of the career they have chosen as gentleman farmers. Eventually they sell part of the land, content to retain 160 acres. From then on life is gayer and lighter, and they are sure to live happily ever after. All this is written in an engagingly simple manner, seasoned throughout with Mr. Spence's particular brand of humor.

HAVIGHURST, WALTER. SIGNATURE OF TIME. 1949.

A story of two brothers in the aftermath of war: Maury Hazard, a war correspondent who was shot down over Germany and held a prisoner and who is now back at his newspaper desk in Cleveland; Dave, who returns after many months in a military hospital, a broken man both mentally and physically. For both men it is a time of rehabilitation. Maury finds that he cannot write. His voice is so bitter that he cannot set down the simplest story without spoiling it by the wish to shock and horrify his readers. He is offered a free-hand column, and unable to decide whether he wishes to take it on or not, he withdraws for a month's leave to the island in Lake Erie where he spent his boyhood. What he really hoped to do was to escape permanently, but this he finds cannot be easily done. For Dave too, there must be the discovery of a new meaning for life. The Thoreau-like journals of their great-uncle Julian Hazard are one of the features of the book, giving the story a perspective against time.

THARP, LOUISE HALL. THE PEABODY SISTERS. 1949.

Sophia, the wife of Hawthorne; Mary, wife of Horace Mann, and Elizabeth, educator and champion of many worthy causes —these three famous sisters are here brought together in a charming biography. The tone is light and readable throughout, and the factual material has been gathered from reliable sources. By a criss-crossing of event, the author has woven the three lives into one tapestry for the glorification of New England. Much of the biography is taken up with the lives of the sisters before the famous marriages, fortunately for the reader, for these are the least familiar parts, but not the least interesting.

Forum Broadcasts On SC County To Be Resumed

Nicholas Columbo, founder and moderator of the Santa Clara County Meeting of the Air, which was broadcast weekly over San Jose Radio Station KEEN during the latter part of 1948 and early 1949, has announced return of the forum program to the air.

First broadcast is slated for 8 p.m. over KEEN next Wednesday, March 29. Occasion will be an "alumni" kickoff dinner at the Hotel De Anza in San Jose. Alumni will be those who appeared on the earlier town meeting type broadcasts. The dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. and will include these speakers as well as representatives of church, labor, farmer, school, business, labor and other groups.

Colombo issued a general invitation to tne public to attend this dinner and kickoff broadcast. Tickets may be purchased by calling KEEN.

Mayors of the various county communities and the secretary-managers of the chambers of commerce and their friends have been invited to this dinner and first broadcast. "We are returning to the air by popular demand," commented Colombo, who added that the program has been off the air for 13 months. Aim of the program is "Making democracy work toward a better public relations."

The first broadcast will be a general roundtable discussion. The moderator emphasized in announcing the event, that this program has no sponsor and will be as unbiased as possible. He cited the tremendous growth of the valley as reason for greater knowledge of and participation in the county government and all the phases of county operation.

Doll Show To Be Held In Los Gatos

The second annual Doll Show will be held in Los Gatos Thursday, March 30, at the Legion Memorial Building on Main Street, Los Gatos. The show will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The Los Gatos Elementary PTA and the Louise Van Meter PTA are co-sponsors of the show. Proceeds from the show will be used on projects for the benefit of the school children.

Over a thousand dolls are to be on display. The dolls will be classified and judged. Ribbons will be awarded to the best dolls in the show.

The following group of local artists will be judges at the show: Dr. Arturo B. Fallico, Mrs. Clyde Trusman, Mrs. Bud Gorman, Mr. George Dennison and Mr. Frank Ingerson.

Anyone who has an unusual doll or collection of dolls they wish to display may do so by calling Mrs. Joe Cunningham at Los Gatos 945 RX.

WE SALUTE

OUR RED CROSS!

"The world's angel of mercy wears a Red Cross band on his arm." Here, all through the nation, in every quarter of the civilized globe, the Red Cross brings succor to people in distress. We all know of the humanitarian services of this tremendous organization, yet few of us translate its ever-ready helpfulness to tragedy which might come to our town today! A devastating flood. A fatal fire. An explosion that could take a toll of countless lives. The American Red Cross would be here on the job with every equipment for care and comfort! So let's really support these tireless "Angels of Mercy" and contribute generously when asked to do so!

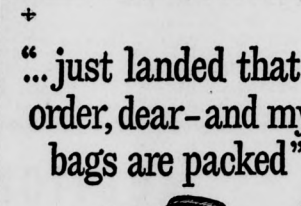
SHOCK

(A Short Story)
By RICHARD HILL WILKINSON

IT SEEMED incredible to Jock that in this city of opulence and opportunity he could be hungry and broke and out of a job. Standing disconsolately on the corner of Cahuenga and Hollywood boulevards he contemplated his predicament with bitterness and remorse. He didn't belong here and he would have given anything not to be here. Gloomily he projected his mind 2000 miles back over the mountains and plains to the snug little midwestern town of Thompsonville. That's where he wanted to be.

He'd been a sucker to listen to the movie agent. He should have had sense enough to know that Noel Preston wasn't a movie agent at all, but a racketeer who hopped from small town to small town, witnessing amateur theatrical company performances and assuring the leading characters that there was a future for them in Hollywood.

Preston had given him a letter to an alleged office in Hollywood, instructing him to present it to a Mr. Gleason. Before a week had passed, Mr. Gleason would have him working for one of the major studios. The agent's fee, payable in advance, Jock had given to Preston out of his savings. The remainder of his savings went for train fare.



The roadster's bumper brushed his trouser leg, which was the last thing he knew before his head thumped against the pavement.

Of course there hadn't been any office or any Mr. Gleason. Jock had tried the studios himself, but it didn't take him long to discover he didn't have a chance.

Thinking about it, he reflected that it would take him a long time to save up for the garage he wanted to buy. All his surplus was gone. And then there was Adele to consider. Adele had faith in him. Even when he'd been sucker enough to go to Hollywood, she had believed in him, though he knew she wished he'd been satisfied to stay home. He wondered if now she'd wait till he had saved enough to buy the garage.

He stepped off the curb, heading west on Hollywood boulevard, just as the lights changed. At this exact moment a long, black roadster came around the corner, barely moving. Jock heard its horn, and started to retreat. His heel caught on something and he fell backwards. The roadster's bumper brushed his trouser leg, which was the last thing he knew before his head thumped against the pavement.

Seconds later Jock opened his eyes. He was lying on the sidewalk, and there were a lot of people around. He heard a siren, followed by sharp commands. "Break! Gang-way! Break away, there!"

He blinked. There hadn't been time to protest. And now there was no one around to protest to. He lay still, conscious of the movement of the ambulance, thinking that he might as well let them take him to the hospital. Perhaps he'd get a meal out of it.

Fifteen minutes later he was deposited on a leather couch in what appeared to be a small anteroom. A nurse hovered about. Masculine voices came from behind a door directly opposite. Presently the door opened and a man with a briefcase came in. He nodded to the nurse and the nurse went out. The man came and looked at Jock.

"Well," he said, "you haven't got much of a case. I happened to be in the car. I'm Lannie Holtham's lawyer."

Jock blinked and said nothing. The man went on:

"You couldn't prove a thing, but publicity's bad for a star as big as Holtham. Besides, there's reporters outside." He sat down and began unstrapping his briefcase. "That's the story, so don't try to tell me different. Or don't hand me that stuff about how a star has to keep up a front in Hollywood and won't stand for lawsuits. A lawsuit wouldn't net you a dime, because you couldn't prove a thing. Now get this: We'll settle for $10,000 out of court and not a cent more. All you got to do is sign this paper and keep your trap shut when the reporters come in."

Jock opened his mouth and closed it, like a fish out of water. No sound escaped his lips. The lawyer stood up.

"Twelve thousand and that's the limit. Speak up. I'm in a hurry."

Jock swallowed. By trying tremendously hard he managed to say, "O. K."

Minutes later the doctor finished his examination. "Suffering from shock. We'd better keep him here a few days. Put him in ward 10. He doesn't look to me like a man who could pay for even a semi-private."

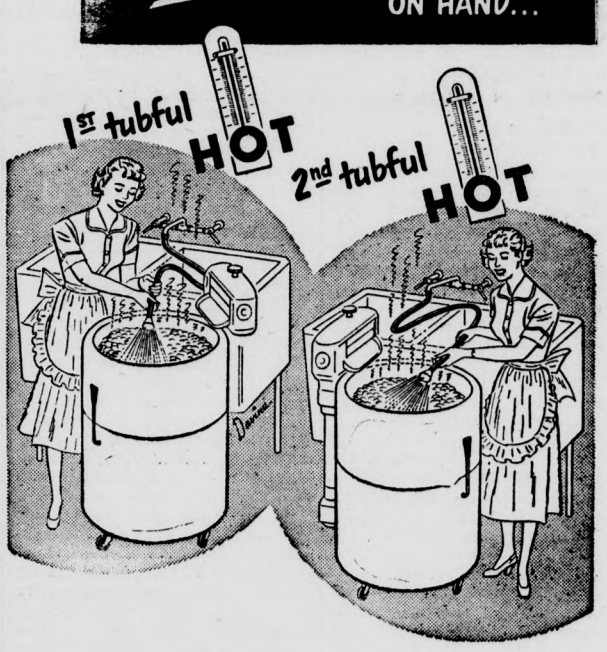
LOTS OF HOT WATER WHEN YOU HAVE "extra gallons" ON HAND...



Can you do "a whopping big washing" in your home without running out of hot water? Or do you have to limit the size of the washing to the size of your water heater?

Those are two good questions to ask yourself when planning a new house or when you are replacing the present, old water heater in your home. Too often, a 20-gallon water heater is put into a home where the hot water needs require a 30- or 40-gallon heater.

Did you know that it takes 20 to 30 gallons for washing clothes and an average of 15 to 20 gallons for a shower? So if you are buying a new water heater make sure you select one that is "sized up" to your family's needs.

How to Buy Your Next
GAS WATER HEATER

1. PROPER SIZE: A fully adequate water heater costs so little more now, and will save you from having to make costly replacements later.
2. QUALITY MAKE: You will get longer, better service when you buy a top-quality automatic gas water heater that carries a manufacturer's guarantee.
